2. Analysis of Management

a) The company's revenue from operations for the current quarter stands at Rs.2,256 million, marking a 9% quarter-on-quarter increase. This growth was driven by positive performance across all three Business Group, with Home Care emerging as the key growth contributor, supported by the successful launch of Fabric Enhancers. Meanwhile, the Beauty & Wellbeing and Personal Care segments recorded modest growth.

b) Net profit for the quarter stood at Rs. 391 million, representing a 19% decline compared to the corresponding quarter of the previous year. Profitability during the quarter was impacted by a combination of factors. Following tax structure changes in a neighboring market, market pricing dynamics across several categories remained challenging, limiting the company's ability to fully recover significant increases in input costs through pricing. At the same time, continued pressure on household budgets led to consumer downtrading and a shift towards lower-priced offerings, resulting in an adverse product mix impact on margins. The quarter also witnessed sharp inflation in key raw materials and packaging inputs, particularly those linked to crude oil derivatives, driven by heightened geopolitical tensions and supply chain disruptions in the Middle East region. While the company implemented calibrated pricing and revenue management actions to recover a portion of these cost increases, it remained focused on balancing affordability and access for consumers while protecting the long-term health of its brands and market share. In addition, profit for the corresponding quarter of the previous year benefited from certain one-time royalty-related adjustments, creating an unfavorable year-on-year comparison. Excluding the impact of these non-recurring items, profits would have declined by approximately 10%, largely reflecting the impact of exceptional input cost inflation and constrained pricing recovery during the period. Despite these near-term pressures, the company continued to invest behind brands, route-to-market capabilities, innovation, and consumer engagement to support sustainable long-term growth

3. During the period under reference no case has been filed either by the corporate body or against the corporate body in the name of any Director/Promoter of the company.

4. Analysis of the share transaction of the corporate body:

a) Dealing oof our company's share is the prerogative of the Nepalese public. We however prefer to focus on company's performance, i.e., on the top line & bottom-line growth of the company

b) Share transaction details as taken from the NEPSE Website for the last 60 days are mentioned below:

Maximum Price: Rs 47,900
Minimum Price: Rs 45,501
Closing Price: Rs 47,200

Total transaction days: 60 Days
Transaction Nos.: 2,244 Shares

5. Problems & Challenges

Under the current improving but still fragile economic conditions, factors such as cautious consumer spending and competitive intensity across FMCG categories continued to influence market growth during the year. Inflationary pressures continued led by volatility in commodity prices, freight costs, and foreign exchange movements which impacted on input and operating costs. These factors, together with evolving consumer preferences and changing channel dynamics, affected overall profitability and business performance.

In response, management remained focused on driving volume-led growth, strengthening brand equities, optimizing product mix, enhancing supply chain efficiencies, and maintaining disciplined cost management initiatives. Continued investments in innovation, route-to-market excellence, digital capabilities, and distributor partnerships supported growth across all three Business Groups and helped sustain leadership positions in key categories.

Looking ahead, management believes that several of the cost pressures experienced during the quarter are likely to continue in the near future. In addition, selective pricing and revenue management interventions implemented towards the latter part of the quarter are expected to improve cost recovery going forward. Management remains cautiously optimistic that these actions, together with a more stable input cost environment, will support an improvement in business performance over time.

The company is also encouraged by recent policy measures announced in the national budget, including tax relief and salary revisions, which are expected to provide additional support to consumer purchasing power and confidence in the medium term. While demand conditions remain uneven and macroeconomic uncertainties persist, management remains cautiously optimistic regarding the consumption outlook and continues to focus on strengthening competitiveness, driving sustainable growth, and creating long-term value for all stakeholders.

6. Corporate Governance

The company believes in the highest standards of corporate behavior which are laid out through a written Code of business principles for transparency & all statutory/legal compliance by the company, its redistribution stockist, suppliers, transporters, contractors, and other business partners with whom the company associates through its operations. The management has achieved good governance and responsible management practices which are benchmarked to the best managed global companies.
